G.W.U. TOSSERS WIN BIG DOUBLE-HEADER

Freshman Team Wins First Victory; Springston and Eskew Star for G. W. U. Varsity.

A double win for the Hatchetite tossers was the result of the encounters staged Friday evening, January 21, at the Central Coliseum, Ninth and Pennsylvania Avenue, when the George Washington University varsity downed Gallaudet, 32—20, and the freshmen came through with their first win, when they outplayed Gallaudet Reserves and brought them into camp, 21—9.

The first few minutes the Gallaudet boys made a great stand and managed to lead at the end of five minutes of play by the small margin of 1 point, the score standing 5—4. At this point the G. W. machine got under way and rapidly piled up tallies until at the end of the half the count stood 17—9, with the Kendall Greeners on the small end.

The game was featured by the stellar playing of the forwards, Eskew and Springston, Springston caging 4 baskets before he left the game in the last few minutes of play to make way for a substitute. The guarding game of Daily and Boteler was, as usual, up to the excellent standards they have maintained all season. Captain Boteler was a little off form in caging baskets from the 15-foot mark, as he got only 4 out of 13, but this was balanced by the equally poor showing of La Fontaine, the Gallaudet free tosser, who was successful in 4 out of a possible 10 shots.

In the preliminary game the freshmen broke into the win column for the first time this season, when they annexed the game from Gallaudet Reserves. The work of the guards, Goldstein and Held, featured the play of the frosh. Held, who made his debut in this game, was the mainstay of the Business High tossers last year. Colburne, playing center, caged the most baskets, as his count stood at 5 when the final whistle blew. The frosh were up to their old tricks of shooting at the baskets, but failing to cage their two points. They did this enough times to win several games, had the shots been a little more accurate. Colburne was the worst offender in this respect. Birmingham made a creditable showing in the game, especially in free shooting, as he put 4 through the hoop out of 6 attempts.

FRESHMEN LAY PLANS FOR THE SPRING PROM

One of the principal subjects discussed at the meeting held by the freshmen of the Engineering College Wednesday, January 19, in the chapel at Lisner Hall, was the Freshman Prom. It was pointed out that in the past this prom has been one of the biggest social events of the University, and in order that this year's prom, which comes during the University's centennial, be made the finest yet, it would be necessary to make early arrangements. After some discussion it was decided that the prom should be held some time during the first week in April. A committee, consisting of Sergt. L. James, Louisa Strother, John Zimmerman, H. P. Ayers, and J. Andley, was appointed to confer with the other freshman classes of the University to more definitely arrange the details of the big event.

Tentative plans call for Meyer Davis music to assist Mlle. Terpsichore in making this dance a most harmonious affair. The date selected is considered especially auspicious, as it is the season when the freshness of the spring verdure is most in evidence.

"We expect," said President Granville Dickey of the Engineering Class, "to make this dance the biggest and best thing of the kind ever held in George Washington University."

CO-EDS SELECTED IN DEBATE TRY-OUTS

Tentative Plans Set Date of Triangular Debate for March 11—Subject Is a National Problem.

From the 25 candidates who had previously presented themselves Monday evening, January 17, the two George Washington teams for the Triangular League were selected. Five of the candidates were women and three were chosen to contest for places on the men's team if separate debates for the women cannot be arranged. The colleges in the league consist of Swarthmore College, the University of West Virginia, and George Washington, and March 11 has been tentatively set for the debate on the subject, "Resolved: That the employees of industrial corporations, as such, should elect at least one-third of the board of directors." The negative team of George Washington University will debate Swarthmore College at Swarthmore; the affirmative team will debate the University of West Virginia in Washington; while Swarthmore College will send its negative team to Morgantown to debate the University of West Virginia.

The debate Monday night was the second try-out, at which only 12 men were ordered to present themselves. The winners as announced are: David Malcolm Hodge, Washington Irving Cleveland, George M. Moore, and Thos. D. Behne, affirmative team; Charles Warren Maxwell, Leslie Jackson, Stanton Fitzgerald, and Harry Perlin, negative team.

Each of the men selected have records as debaters. Mr. Hodge is an A. B. of Swarthmore, and was a member of the George Washington debating team last year when it defeated the University of West Virginia, and has participated in nine intercollegiate debates. Mr. Cleveland, a member of the second year class of George Washington University Law School, was a student of the University of Wisconsin for two years, and was also a member of the G. W. U. team that defeated the University of West Virginia. Mr. Moore, a senior at Columbia College, has been a student of the Sue Bennett Memorial School, the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, and Berea College. Mr. Behne, second year law student, who has had three years in the College of Arts and Sciences, has had no intercollegiate experience. His activities have been confined to high school and intersociety debates. Mr. Maxwell, a member of the second year law class, has had three years at the Catholic University, and one year of law at that institution. He was a member of the Catholic University team when it debated George Washington in 1916. Mr. Jackson, also a member of the second year law class, has had three years' experience in high school debates and two years' experience in intersociety debates at the University of Texas. He has also made numerous political speeches. Mr. Fitzgerald senior of the Law School, is an A. B. from the University of Illinois and he had wide experience as a debater in the societies of that institution. M Perlin, an A. B. from George Washington University and a member of the second year law class, represented George Washington in the debates of 1917-18 and 1918-19. He was also contestant for the Davis Prize.

The young women who have been chosen to do temporary work with the debating squad are Mrs. Archey, Miss Carloss and Miss Wilgus. It is proposed, if possible, to arrange separate debates for the women's team, but if this cannot be done, the women will have an opportunity to contest for places on the teams with the men.

The debating council is composed of Prof. Collier of the Law School, Dr. Hitt of the College of Arts and Sciences, Mr. Floyd Matthias representing the Columbian Debating Society, Mr. D. M. Hodge representing the Delta Sigma Rho Honorary Debating Fraternity and Mr. G. L. Hall, the debating coach.

WANDERING GREEKS MEET.

The Wandering Greeks' Association met Sunday, January 9. Permanent officers were elected as follows: Samuel J. Lacy, president; Scott Dahlquist, vice president; Albert H. Paul, treasurer; and Ben C. Clark, secretary. A constitution was adopted and organization perfected for the active career of the club.

The Wandering Greeks desire to be an all-University organization and therefore ask that all members of general national fraternities not having chapters at G. W. make application for membership and affiliate with the society.

Correction

It was stated in the last issue of The Hatchet that the reception to be held in connection with the centennial celebration would be in the form of a "University reception, to be held at Rauscher's on Wednesday, February 23," and that the "Junior Play would be held at the Central High School Auditorium on the night of February 26." These items should have read: "The Junior Class reception, at the Hotel Raleigh, on the afternoon of February 21," and the "Junior Play at the Central High School on the evening of February 28." Please note these corrections.

G. W. U. BASKETERS MAY PLAY NAVY IN WASHINGTON

Buff and Blue to Play Six Successive Games at Home, Beginning With Johns Hopkins.

George Washington University basketball players begin a home stay of six games in the Central Coliseum, Ninth and Pennsylvania Avenue, on Friday, when Johns Hopkins University is played. Following the Hopkins game are engagements with Catholic University, Roanoke College, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Georgetown, and possibly the United States Naval Academy basketball team.

While the date of February 22 has been set for the Navy game at Annapolis, Md., every effort is being made to persuade the midshipmen to come to Washington to help celebrate the Centennial. Definite announcement will probably be made within the next week as to whether it is possible to bring them here.

Some time ago it was found out that the Navy was allowed a game away from its own floor. Application was made by the Director of Student Activities to the Naval Academy authorities for the Navy team to come here.

The news leaked out that the Navy authorities were asking permission to make the trip here or to Philadelphia to play the University of Pennsylvania.

It is feared that the nearness of the annual West Point-Navy game of February 26, at West Point, might preclude the possibility of bringing the Navy team here.

Beginning with the Hopkins game on Friday come the regular home games. Following Hopkins is the big battle with Catholic University. On the floor at Brookland the Hatchetites put up a great fight and emerged a loser by a score of 20 to 17.

The Catholic University game has been shifted to the date of February 1 instead of February 2, as originally planned. The Brookland authorities said they had scheduled a junior prom for the date of February 2 and wanted to change.

Despite the fact that the dual glee club concert with Columbia University is held on the evening of February 1, it will in no way conflict with the basketball game, which will be held early enough to allow those musically inclined to take in the performance at the Hotel Washington.

Roanoke College is due here at the Coliseum on February 4. On February 11 Gallaudet College is played in the Kendall Green gymnasium in a return game. The G. W. U. team defeated Gallaudet easily by a score of 32 to 20, never being pressed by the

MEETING OF THE WOMEN'S UNIVERSITY CLUB POSTPONED

The regular meeting of the Women's University Club, scheduled for January 13, was cancelled in accordance with the wishes of the majority of members. The cancellation was considered advisable owing to the approaching examinations. There will be no further meeting until the regular date on February 10, the January meeting being dropped entirely. Plans are being made to turn the next meeting into a social, and a baby party will be the main event of the evening.

COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES PROGRAM FOR CONCERT

Event Marks First Appearance of G. W. Glee Club—Will Hold Dance After Concert.

The George Washington University Glee Club has announced its readiness to join with the Columbia University Glee Club in the concert which is to be held the evening of February 1 at the Washington Hotel. The committee in charge of the concert has arranged an exceptional program.

The visiting Glee Club will consist of 40 members, who bring with them 30 stringed instruments. The club is an established one, and it is on its annual southern tour. The fame of this club from past performances and reports of their excellence this year, may be taken as a guarantee of the treat in store for those who attend.

The concert will be the first one in which the Glee Club of George Washington has appeared, and reports indicate that they may be expected to give as fine a recital as any club in the city. Since the club was organized some two months ago, it has been under the direction of Mr. King Smith, and the fine progress which it has made during this period has, of late, been augmented by special rehearsals in preparation for the concert.

The chairman of the committee on the concert, Mr. Robert Colflesh, has announced the program of the evening as follows:

The charge for admission to the concert and the dance afterward has been set at $1.65 per person, which includes war tax. Tickets may be had from any member of the concert committee, Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities, C. Walter Parker, the General Office, or at the Hatchet Office.

The committee also extends an invitation to those attending the basketball game to come out to the dancing after the game, and hopes that many will come.

FIRST YEAR LAW CLASS HOLDS MIXER AT LAW SCHOOL

About 125 students attended the mixer held by the first year law class Tuesday evening, Jan. 11, at the Law School. At the door each guest was tagged with his name and state in order that the members of the class might more easily get acquainted. Free cigars and cigarettes were obtainable in the men's lounging room.

Professors Levitt, Wilson, Collier and Lavery made short speeches on the value of a legal education. Prof. Spaulding, when called upon for a speech, surprised the class by giving instead a very enjoyable rendition of songs, for which he played his own piano accompaniment. Dean Ferson was given quite an ovation when he rose to address the class. Recitations were given by two young ladies, friends of members of the class, after which refreshments and dancing were enjoyed. Everyone who attended pronounced the party a great success, and expressed the desire to have another mixer soon.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

The next meeting of El Circulo Espanol will be held Friday night, February 4, at 8 p. m., in the assembly room, first floor rear room, of 2017 G Street northwest. At the conclusion of routine business an informal social will be held.

A flashlight group picture will be taken of the club at Edmonson's Studio on the night following, February 5, for the Cherry Tree. All members are urged to be present.

JUNIORS TO GIVE PLAY "THE TRUTH"

Arranging to Present Play at Central High School Auditorium Monday Night, February 28.

All arrangments are practically complete for the Junior Class activities to be held in connection with the University Centennial Celebration February 19 to 28. The schedule of events includes a Junior Reception at the Hotel Raleigh on the afternoon of February 21, a Junior Prom at Rauscher's on the evening of Thursday, February 24, and a Junior play, "The Truth," at the Central High School auditorium on the evening of February 28.

The Junior Reception, at the Raleigh, will be an informal afternoon affair, from 4 to 7:30. The program includes a number of selections by the University Glee Club, refreshments, and dancing. Howard C. Espey, in charge of arrangements, has announced a big affair for the occasion, and promises a good time for those attending. The affair will be free of charge to all students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the University.

The Junior Prom will be held at Rauscher's February 24. Eight pieces of Meyer Davis' music have been secured to furnish music. Refreshments will be served during intermission. Boxes for the fraternities and sororities have been provided and each will be decorated by the fraternity represented. Attractive programs will be furnished. The Prom tickets will be on sale beginning January 31, at a cost of $5 each. Each ticket for the Prom will include a stub, which will admit one couple to the Junior play the following Monday night.

The Junior play, "The Truth," will be presented at the Central High School auditorium on Monday night, February 28, at 8:15. The cast has been selected, and rehearsals will begin immediately following the mid-year examinations. The cast as selected includes "Becky," Miss Geraldine Barlow; "Eve," Miss Vivian Bradley; "Laura," Miss Jean Jussen; "Mrs. Crespigny," Miss M. E. Litzelman; "Warder," Mr. O. C. Humphrey; "Lindon," Mr. D. Malcolm Hodge; "Roland," Mr. Howard Espey; and "Butler," Mr. Russell Whyte.

The story of "The Truth" concerns the fortunes and misfortunes of a very sweet young wife who has an innate fondness and ability to "fib." Her lies grate upon the sensibilities of her trusting, and somewhat blunt, husband, especially when she concerns three or four others by reason of her efforts to conciliate an estranged couple. A "hot sport" of a father and a landlady with social aspirations complicate the story. The comedy is a laugh all the way through its four acts, and the cast selected gives promise of putting on an admirable performance.

The scenery and settings will be arranged for by Mr. Smithwick, and Mr. McCastlin will handle the properties. Miss Marie O'Dea has been appointed secretary of the Junior Play Committee. Mr. Nagle will act as stage manager. The position of business manager for the play has not yet been filled. Other members of the play committee who have received assignments are Miss Wanda Castle and Miss Virginia Nichols.

We Believe in Honor

We believe in honor and the honor system. We would have it apply to the University as a whole and not to special departments, sections or classes. The mere signature at the bottom of a paper signifying that the student has neither given nor received help, means little when the students are watched. No honor system of this sort is worthy of the name. The students, and not the faculty, make the honor system. If the so-called honor system, inaugurated by the students, is a real honor system, it should be properly handled by the students. Other universities have real honor systems which George Washington University would do well to look into. And there is real honor. And a real spirit behind the move and system which amply takes care of students who have strayed from the pledge. Until there is a true spirit, a real intent to develop an esprit de corps here, the honor system will be but a faulty thing at best. You have taken or are taking examinations. We would welcome for publication, and signed, any contribution which would suggest any aid to the student council, faculty or University for the honor system.

One More Appeal

The second half of the Voluntary Student Tax is due before February 15. More than two hundred tax signers have failed to pay the initial fee. They have been urged to give over their money for the activities. And they mean to do so, having put off the matter for three months. If you are behind in payment, have forgotten it, have not been able to pay, do so now. It will save confusion and help in the development of all things planned for the students.

TO SELECT GIRLS' VARSITY TEAM FROM CANDIDATES

The girls' varsity basketball team will be picked at the practice to be held next Wednesday night, February 2. The coaches and Manager Ruth Reeves will select the girls who have shown the best ability in the teams' recent games. Several hard games remain on the schedule, among them being return engagements with Gallaudet and Wilson Normal, who forced the girls to take the small end of the score in their first meeting. Another first-class game will be the game with the National Park Seminary girls, to be played Saturday, January 29, in the National Park Seminary gymnasium.

As this game comes before the varsity is picked, a star team will be picked from the Buff and Blue teams to meet the Park Seminary girls. The Seminary is said to have a great sextette. A feature of the game will be the cheering section of our opponents. They follow the team to all its games and by their songs and cheers have won distinction for the school.

SIGMA NU WINS EASY VICTORY.

The final standing in the Interfraternity Bowling League shows Sigma Nu to have won the tournament with comparative ease, and a glance at the averages of the Sigma Nu bowlers tells the whole story. Clyde Tolson, team captain, made an average of 97 for 17 games. The averages of the other members are as follows: Yates, 99; Cates, 98; Bopst, 97; and Kebler, 96—a well-balanced combination.

Kappa Alpha made the highest team score for one match, with 528. Sigma Nu was next, with 521. L. E. Bobst, of Sigma Nu, made the highest score of the season, making 133 in the first game. C. H. Hixon, of the Theta Delta Chi, was next, with 129.

team which was considered better than that of last season.

The big game of the season comes on February 15 in the Coliseum. Manager Tex Nall plans to have a big dance after the Tech contest and is expecting a jazz band for the affair.

On February 19, Saturday night, Georgetown University will be played in the Coliseum in what is expected to be the hardest game of the year. Forced to the limit in Ryan Gymnasium, Georgetown just managed to win in the final minute of play.

On February 22 the Navy will be played. In the event the game is staged here, there will probably be an extra tax, as the expense involved is large in bringing the midshipmen up here. The game will be played in the afternoon after the Centennial celebration, and the contest was originally planned for a game away from home.

After February 22 the team will play away from home on a short southern trip through Virginia.

CORRECTION NOTED IN GAMES.

The printed basketball schedules carry the dates of February 2 and February 18 for the Catholic University—George Washington and the Georgetown University—George Washington games, to be played at the Central Coliseum. In place of February 2 make the C. U. game February 1, and in place of February 18 make the G. U. game read February 19.

The banquet was in honor of the 14 men recently taken in by the chapter.

The banquet was a big affair, lasting until late Saturday night. Ross M. Nichols, '22, acted as toastmaster. The newly initiated men are: George W. Askew, J. Nelson Anderson, A. Hamilton Bell, Jr., James T. Berryman, Paul H. Baker, Fred M. Bradley, Carl C. Crowe, Joseph B. Colburne, Edwin H. Evans, Charles F. Foley, Douglas W. Macomber, Robert E. The chapter is planning a "kid party" for February 4.

KAPPA ALPHA.

The Alpha Nu chapter gave its annual Christmas dance this year on December 30 at the Franklin Square Hotel. About 75 couples attended, including a number of out-of-town K. A.'s. The affair was chaperoned by Representative and Mrs. I. V McPherson, Mrs. Robert Hinton, Mrs. William R. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chambliss, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waters and Dr. and Mrs. Russell Hollingsworth.

Alpha Nu chapter held an informal reception in the form of "open house" to all parents of the active members and all alumni K. A.'s in Washington on Sunday, January 2, 1921, from 4 to 7. A musical program was rendered during the affair by Messrs. George Myers and C. E. Chambliss, Jr.

WILL INAUGURATE NEW COURSE AT UNIVERSITY

Classes of Course Treating Subject "Junior High School" To Meet Monday and Friday at 5:10.

A new pedagogical subject, the "Junior High School," will be studied in a special course during the second semester, beginning January 31, according to announcements now being sent out by Dean Ruediger of the Teachers' College. The class will meet on Mondays and Fridays at 4 o'clock (or 5:10 if preferred), and will carry two semester hours of credit. It is open to any student interested.

The main emphasis of the course as given by Prof. Ruediger, is to be laid upon the ways and means of vitalizing instruction in the basic branches of study, but such topics as the period of adolescence, and the history, organization and curriculum of the Junior High School will also receive consideration. In addition to lectures, the work as outlined includes a special text with class discussions and reports.

Teachers trained for this class of work are particularly in demand, so this new course not only adds a very interesting subject to the curriculum of the University, but it also fills a very definite need. Those who expect to qualify for the examinations to fill vacancies in the Junior High grades of the District schools will welcome such a timely course.

A few other pedagogical courses may be entered also at the beginning of the coming semester. "Principles of Education," given at 4:10 on Tuesdays and Thursdays; "History of Education," on Saturdays from 9:15 to 11:15; "School Hygiene" and "Educational Story-telling" are among the interesting subjects which may be taken up at this time.

TO SELECT SWIMMING TEAM.

During the examination week swimming practices have been irregular. Next Wednesday, February 2, the entire swimming squad is expected to report at 8 p. m. for tryout for the team. Two weeks of hard practice will follow for the team. The manager, Horace Young, says that from the present prospects, G. W. should have an excellent team, since among those who have turned out for practice are men who have broken the South Atlantic record for the 50 and 60 yard dashes, a man who has broken the South Atlantic record for back stroke, two men who have broken the southern record for breast stroke, and one man, formerly on the University of Chicago team, who achieved a 60-foot plunge for distance.

EMINENT POET TO GIVE CULTURE COURSE AT G. W.

Church, at the corner of Twentieth and G Streets, which has been kindly offered to the University to accommodate some of its larger classes, will again be used for the lectures.

This course of lectures will be open to the public, as well as to the members of the University. A charge of $6 for the series will be made to the public. The lectures will be open to students and members of the University without charge. One semester hour credit will be granted students who attend the lectures and who present, as evidence of such attendance, a satisfactory resume of the course.

Persons not connected with the University who desire to attend the lectures should communicate with the Recorder, at 2023 G Street; telephone, West 1649. Early application for enrollment is advised.
